Responsorial Psalm
(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

1. I will give you glory, O God my King,

I will bless your name for ever.
I will bless you day after day and praise your name for ever. (R.)

2. The Lord is kind and full of compassion,
slow to anger, abounding in love.

How good is the Lord to all,
compassionate to all his creatures. (R.)

3. All your creatures shall thank you, O Lord,
and your friends shall repeat their blessing.

They shall speak of the glory of your reign
and declare your might, O
God. (R.)

4. The Lord is faithful in all his words
and loving in all his deeds.
The Lord supports all who fall and raises all who are bowed down. (R.)

Acclamation

Alleluia, alleuia!

Blessed are you, Father,
Lord of heaven and earth;
you have revealed to little ones
the mysteries of the kingdom.
Alleluia

It was on a beast of burden, not a steed of war, that Jesus entered Jerusalem to fulfil his mission, as the prophet Zechariah reminds us today. His is not the way of the world. In place of egotistical pride and ruthless force, he calls for humility, gentleness and childlike trust. In the kingdom of God, these are not symptoms of weakness but the secret pathway to strength. Jesus dares us to believe in the power of love and truth. Noisy and persistent voices seek to drown out his word to us but those who attend to it will find rest and peace

REFLECTION by Dianne Bergant CSS

The readings for today engage us in a reflection on the nature of the Trinity, as well as the ways that we are enriched by each of the divine Persons. The gospel acknowledges the sovereignty of God. This is followed immediately by mention of the handing over of all things to Jesus, making him a kind of vice-regent of God. Paul speaks of the Spirit, clearly a divine reality, but different from Jesus and the one called God. According to Paul, this Spirit is the Spirit of Jesus and the Spirit of God, implying that somehow both Jesus and God claim the Spirit. It is this Spirit who raised Jesus from the dead, and it is this same Spirit who dwells in Christians. The grace of this Triune God touches our lives in some ways that are tangible and other ways that demand faith. The most tangible manifestation of God is Jesus himself. God has been revealed to us through this Jesus. While Jesus was a tangible person, our accepting of him as the manifestation of God requires faith, and this faith is no easier today than it was at the time of Jesus himself.

The overriding disposition of these readings is humility. Jesus, the human manifestation of the divine, is meek and humble, and the true disciple is called to be humble. A second disposition is placed before us – grateful praise. In the psalm we praise and bless God; we extol God's holy name. In Jesus we have known the tender touch of God, and we are grateful
