New government must tackle poverty: Vinnies

Published: 23 May 2019

Prime Minister Scott Morrison and the Coalition face the major challenge of helping three million Australians living in poverty, the St Vincent de Paul Society says. Source: The Catholic Leader.

St Vincent de Paul Society National Council president Claire Victory acknowledged the Coalition's win, but also the challenges ahead.

"We look forward to working with (Mr Morrison's) re-elected government to build a fairer and more just nation," Ms Victory said.

"The government and the country face major challenges, with three million Australians living in poverty and hundreds of thousands of Australians struggling to find an affordable home.

"Our experience tells us that individuals and families who are out of work or under-employed are struggling to make ends meet."

Brisbane Archbishop Mark Coleridge said the election result was a surprise to most, and it showed that the national psyche was harder to read than often thought.

"Clearly polls struggle to take its measure," he said.

"But the democratic process is comparatively risk-free in this country, given that neither of the major parties strays far from the centre."

Archbishop Coleridge said the Church sought to work with all elements of the political spectrum while identifying with no particular party.

"We will work with the new government not only to defend the interests of the Church but also to promote the common good for all Australians," he said.

Issues on the agenda or raised during the election campaign include religious freedom, abortion, euthanasia and social services.

Religious freedom was a significant sleeper issue for many Australian voters concerned that a Shorten government would restrict their liberty to pursue faith and religion.

Christian Schools Australia national executive officer Mark Spencer told The Sydney Morning Herald parents in marginal seats had expressed concern over the protection of religious freedom.

Pro-life group Cherish Life Queensland said it was "overjoyed with the life-valuing outcome".

"What Labor promised meant that if Bill Shorten won government ... taxpayer-funded public hospitals would have been forced to perform abortions on request – even late-term abortions of healthy babies of healthy mothers," Cherish Life Queensland executive director Teeshan Johnson said.

I want those you have given me
to be with me where I am,
so that they may always see the glory
you have given me
because you loved me before the foundation of the world.

NEXT WEEKENDS READINGS:

(A chance to prepare ahead for next week's Liturgy of The Word)

Sunday, 26 May 2019: Sixth Sunday of Easter - Year C

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Acts 15:1-2. 22-29

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and ourselves not to burden you beyond what is essential.

Some men came down from Judaea and taught the brothers, 'Unless you have yourselves circumcised in the tradition of Moses you cannot be saved.' This led to disagreement, and after Paul and Barnabas had had a long argument with these men it was arranged that Paul and Barnabas and others of the church should go up to Jerusalem and discuss the problem with the apostles and elders.

Then the apostles and elders decided to choose delegates to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; the whole church concurred with this. They chose Judas known as Barsabbas and Silas, both leading men in the brotherhood, and gave them this letter to take with them:

'The apostles and elders, your brothers, send greetings to the brothers of pagan birth in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. We hear that some of our members have disturbed you with their demands and have unsettled your minds. They acted without any authority from us, and so we have decided unanimously to elect delegates and to send them to you with Barnabas and Paul, men we highly respect who have dedicated their lives to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Accordingly we are sending you Judas and Silas, who will confirm by word of mouth what we have written in this letter. It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and by ourselves not to saddle you with any burden beyond these essentials: you are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication. Avoid these, and you will do what is right. Farewell.'

Responsorial Psalm Ps 66:2-3. 5-6. 8. R. v.4

(R.) O God, let all the nations praise you!

1. O God, be gracious and bless us and let your face shed its light upon us. So will your ways be known upon earth and all nations learn your saving help. (R.)

2. Let the nations be glad and exult for you rule the world with justice. With fairness you rule the peoples, you guide the nations on earth. (R.)

3. Let the peoples praise you, O God; let all the peoples praise you. May God still give us his blessing till the ends of the earth revere him. (R.)

Second Reading Rv 21:10-14, 22-23

A reading from the book of the Apocalypse

He showed me the holy city coming down out of heaven.

In the spirit, the angel took me to the top of an enormous high mountain and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down from God out of heaven. It had all the radiant glory of God and glittered like some precious jewel of crystal-clear diamond. The walls of it were of a great height, and had twelve gates; at each of the twelve gates there was an angel, and over the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel; on the east there were three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. The city walls stood on twelve foundation stones, each one of which bore the name of one of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

I saw that there was no temple in the city since the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb were themselves the temple, and the city did not need the sun or the moon for light, since it was lit by the radiant glory of God and the Lamb was a lighted torch for it.

Gospel Acclamation Jn 14:23

Alleluia, alleluia!

All who love me will keep my words,
and my Father will love them and we will come to them.
Alleluia!

Gospel Jn 14:23-29

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

The Holy Spirit will teach you everything and remind you of all I have said to you.

Jesus said to his disciples:

'If anyone loves me he will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we shall come to him
and make our home with him.

Those who do not love me do not keep my words.

And my word is not my own:

it is the word of the one who sent me.

I have said these things to you

while still with you;

but the Advocate, the Holy Spirit,
whom the Father will send in my name,
will teach you everything

and remind you of all I have said to you.

Peace I bequeath to you,

my own peace I give you,

a peace the world cannot give, this is my gift to you.

Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid.

You heard me say:

I am going away, and shall return.

If you loved me you would have been glad to know that I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I.

I have told you this now before it happens,
so that when it does happen you may believe.'

I am wondering if any parishioners find these readings useful. They are meant to enable us to prepare to hear the Liturgy of The Word the following week.

Comments to Fr Eric would be appreciated.
