About Laudato Si' Week

Laudato Si' Week honors the fifth anniversary of Pope Francis' encyclical on care for our common home. The theme of the week is "everything is connected." This week launches a year-long journey of transformation, as we grow through the crisis of the current moment by praying, reflecting, and preparing together for a better world to come tomorrow. Following Pope Francis' invitation to join Laudato Si' Week, Catholics everywhere will reflect and prepare for action 16-24 May.

Parish Update

As we continue into our 8th week of isolation (or thereabouts - seems so much longer!) members of our parish groups, including the Parish Finance and Pastoral Councils, along with Fr Ed and Fr Sajan and the Transition Team are continuing to meet each week via Zoom to connect, consult, discuss and support one another through this challenging period. We are not making any major decisions as our meetings are just to make sure the Parish is running smoothly, such as paying accounts and addressing any pastoral needs within our community. As mentioned last week, we are conscious of many parishioners who are feeling cut off from our parish community and we are endeavouring to reach out to them. If you know of anyone feeling this way, could you please let our parish secretary know so that we can follow this up. Of course, please ensure they are perfectly happy for their names to be passed on so that they can be contacted. The parish bulletin is available each week either via email or a hard copy which can be found in a container at the front of each church. Also with the bulletin are prayers and a copy of Fr Sajan's homily, which we are finding uplifting and gives us a sense of connection. This will end, hopefully one day soon, and then we can all meet again face to face as a faith community to pray, support and worship together. To all our mums, grandmas, nannas, aunties and special ladies wishing you a very happy Mother's Day - it certainly will be a different one, but our thoughts are with you all.

Baptism Anniversaries

This month, we celebrate the anniversary of the following recent baptisms: Harvey Joseph Mc Kay, Ruby Jane Miles and Genevieve Joy Prendergast.

Lord God, strengthen your Spirit in them, so they may walk in newness of life.

Blessing for Mothers

Loving God,

as a mother gives life and nourishment to her children,
so you watch over your Church.

Bless our mothers.

Let the example of their faith and love shine forth.

Grant that we may always honour them,
and that they may be led one day to eternal life with you.
Amen.

I shall return to take you with me;
so that where I am
you may be too.

You know the way to the place where I am going.'

Thomas said, 'Lord, we do not know where you are going, so how can we know the way?' Jesus said:

'I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.

No one can come to the Father except through me.

If you know me, you know my Father too.

From this moment you know him and have seen him.'

Philip said, 'Lord, let us see the Father and then we shall be satisfied.' 'Have I been with you all this time, Philip,' said Jesus to him 'and you still do not know me?

'To have seen me is to have seen the Father,
so how can you say, "Let us see the Father"?
Do you not believe

that I am in the Father and the Father is in me?
The words I say to you I do not speak as from myself:

it is the Father, living in me, who is doing
this work.

You must believe me when I say
that I am in the Father and the Father is in me;
believe it on the evidence of this work, if for no other reason.

'I tell you most solemnly,
whoever believes in me
will perform the same works as I do myself,
he will perform even greater works,
because I am going to the Father.'

'IT IS BETTER THAN I GO AWAY ...'

Today's Gospel comes from the long instruction that Jesus, according to the Fourth Gospel, gives to his disciples at the Last Supper. He reflects upon his return to the Father and what his absence will mean for the disciples.

Jesus' 'departure' seems to operate on two levels. The setting of the supper on the night before he dies makes it natural to understand
'going away' as a reference to his imminent departure in death; his 'coming back', then,
would refer to his appearance on the third day
as risen Lord.

At another level, however, Jesus addresses a more permanent 'going away' when, following his appearances to the disciples as risen Lord,
he finally ascends to the Father (see John 20:17). From this perspective, his 'coming back' would refer to his return at the end of time.

At this level the instruction Jesus gives does not bear upon the short space between Good Friday and Easter, but upon the indefinite
'time of the Church' that will follow.

During this time – which remains our time – the disciples will not enjoy his physical presence.
But Jesus insists that it will be a better time in fact. His death on the cross will defeat the grip of sin and death upon the human race,
and open up for us the gift of eternal life.

Jesus is 'the Way, the Truth, and the Life'
in the sense that his death supremely reveals the 'truth' about God (that God is love) and opens up the 'way' to human sharing in God's (eternal) 'life'.

FIRST READING

Acts 6:1-7

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

They elected seven men filled with the Spirit and wisdom.

About this time, when the number of disciples
was increasing, the Hellenists made a complaint against the Hebrews: in the daily distribution their own widows were being overlooked. So the Twelve called a full meeting of the disciples and addressed them, 'It would not be right for us to neglect the word of God so as to give out food; you, brothers, must select from among yourselves seven men of good reputation, filled with the Spirit and with wisdom; we will hand over this duty to them, and continue to devote ourselves to prayer and to the service of the word.' The whole assembly approved of this proposal and elected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, together with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas,
and Nicolaus of Antioch, a convert to Judaism.
They presented these to the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them.

The word of the Lord continued to spread:
the number of disciples in Jerusalem was greatly increased, and a large group of priests made their submission to the faith.

RESP PSALM

Ps 32:1-2, 4-5, 18-19. R. v. 22

R. Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place
our trust in you. (or Alleluia!)

1. Ring out your joy to the Lord, O you just; / for praise is fitting for loyal hearts. / Give thanks to the Lord upon the harp, / with a ten-stringed lute sing him songs. R.

2. For the word of the Lord is faithful / and all his works to be trusted. / The Lord loves justice and right / and fills the earth with his love. R.

3. The Lord looks on those who revere him, / on those who hope in his love, / to rescue their souls from death, / to keep them alive in famine. R.

SECOND READING

1 Pet 2:4-9

A reading from the first letter of St Peter

You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood.

The Lord is the living stone, rejected by men
but chosen by God and precious to him; set yourselves close to him so that you too, the holy priesthood that offers the spiritual sacrifices which Jesus Christ has made acceptable to God, may be living stones making a spiritual house. As scripture says: See how I lay in Zion a precious cornerstone that I have chosen and the man who rests his trust on it will not be disappointed. That means that for you who are believers, it is precious; but for unbelievers, the stone rejected by the builders has proved to be the keystone, a stone to stumble over, a rock to bring men down. They stumble over it because they do not believe in the word; it was the fate
in store for them.

But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood,
a consecrated nation, a people set apart to sing
the praises of God who called you out of the darkness into his wonderful light.

GOSPEL

Jn 14:1-12

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John.

I am the way, the truth and the life.

Jesus said to his disciples:

'Do not let your hearts be troubled.

Trust in God still, and trust in me.

There are many rooms in my Father's house;
if there were not, I should have told you.

I am now going to prepare a place for you,
and after I have gone and prepared you
a place,

Homily

We can thank “doubting Thomas” for the cornerstone of today’s gospel, Jesus’ declaration that he is “the Way, the Truth and the Life”. This and what leads up to it may have a familiar ring for many in the congregation. It’s a text that is often read at funeral services.

It begins with words of assurance for the disciples whom Jesus had just disturbed by speaking about betrayal and denial. From this point on, for four full chapters of the gospel, Jesus opens his heart to them and to the Father. This discourse, unique to the gospel of John, is in the form of a “last testament” from a leader to his followers. After the dialogue between Jesus and Thomas and Philip that we hear today, almost all that follows is a monologue from Jesus.

Part of the appeal of John’s gospel lies in the conversations it records between Jesus and others. These give the gospel a human face. However they can also be disconcerting. Often Jesus’ response to a question is either quite indirect or in the form of a theological pronouncement that only raises more questions. Such is the case when Thomas asks to be shown the way Jesus is going and when Philip asks him to show them the Father. Jesus takes advantage of these pragmatic questions to offer sublime teaching. We must expect the same treatment.

PRAYERS OF THE FAITHFUL

READER: Built on Jesus Christ our cornerstone, we are living stones making up the house of God. From that house let our prayers arise to seek God's blessing on our world.

READER: For the whole of creation, that in preparation for the fifth anniversary of Laudato si' the human family will heed Pope Francis' call to care for the earth, our common home. (Pause for silent prayer) Let us pray to the Lord

Lord, hear us.

READER: For all who follow the way of Christ, that they will truly live as God's priestly people, called out of darkness into God's marvellous light

Lord, hear us.

READER: For nurses around the world, especially those caring for COVID-19 patients, that this week's International Nurses Day will truly honour their skill and dedication.

Lord, hear us.

READER: For mothers, grandmothers, and all who play a motherly role in others' lives, that today will be an occasion of joy and thanksgiving, and wherever needed, reconciliation.

Lord, hear us.

READER: Holy God and Father of Jesus, you gave us your Son to be the way that leads to you, the truth that sets us free, and life that fills us with gladness. Keep us close to him. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Silence

Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

Amen

Concluding Prayer

Almighty and all-merciful God, lover of the human race, healer of all our wounds, in whom there is no shadow of death, save us in this time of crisis; grant wisdom and courage to our leaders; watch over all medical people as they tend the sick and work for a cure; stir in us a sense of solidarity beyond all isolation; if our doors are closed, let our hearts be open. By the power of your love destroy the virus of fear, that hope may never die and the light of Easter, the triumph of life, may shine upon us and the whole world.

Through Jesus Christ, the Lord risen from the dead, who lives and reigns for ever and ever.

AMEN

Holy Mary, health of the sick, pray for us. St Joseph, guardian of us all, pray for us.
