RCIA News

Members of our new parish RCIA Team were commissioned at masses last weekend. Congratulations to Susan Begbie, Dallas and Kevin Wilkinson, Danny and Sharron Williams, and Jo-Anne Bond! As a parish community we support our team, and welcome, enable, celebrate and witness to our inquirers as we journey with them. As our RCIA process gets underway members of our parish community will be invited to be involved, as welcomers, catechists and sponsors.

Caritas Australia, Project Compassion Annual Appeal

I take this opportunity to thank you for your ongoing support for this annual appeal. Without you and the time you take in promoting this appeal, Caritas Australia would not be able to support the many vulnerable people in need who rely on our generosity to assist them in changing their lives in becoming self-reliant. What now? I ask your support again in forwarding all donations to the CDF by May 31. Credit Cards are sent to: Caritas Australia, PO Box 178, Wendouree, 3355. Taxation Record of Receipts - please email this to m.susan@optusnet.com.au to ensure that the donors record of receipt is registered with Caritas to meet Australian Taxation Office requirements. Thank you once again for your very generous support. Sue Searls, Diocesan Caritas Director

200 Years – Faith in the future of Catholic Education in Australia

In recognition of 200 years of Catholic education in Australia, Catholic Education Week 2021 will align with school communities across Australia in celebrating this landmark event. The theme for the week is Faith in the Future which speaks of the essence of hope in faith, so needed against the backdrop of this year. A central focus of the week will be the celebration of the Feast of Our Lady Help of Christians. Patron of Australia, on Monday 24 May. A national Mass will be celebrated on this day with the key intention being that students, staff, parents and the wider community join together on the one day across Australia to pray in thanksgiving for 200 years of Catholic education, and with great faith in the future of Catholic education. School leadership is asked to consider this in planning their liturgical celebrations for next year.

Reflection on the Gospel-Easter 6B (John 15:9-17)

-Veronica Lawson RSM

The constitutions of my religious institute remind me that "the tender mercy of our God has given us one another". The implications of this profoundly beautiful truth are spelt out thus: "In our communities, we try to live in the friendship of Christ's disciples [John 15:15]. To so live calls forth relationships of equality, a real acceptance of ourselves and others, a forgetfulness of anything that does not make love its message." Living in the friendship of Christ's disciples is at the heart of a gospel way of living. It is the commission at the heart of today's reading and seems to be exactly what Pope Francis reminded all believers in his Apostolic Exhortation on the Call to Holiness in Today's World, *Gaudete et Exultate: "*We are all called to be holy by living our lives with love and by bearing witness in everything we do".

As we listen to the proclamation of the gospel, we might attend to the repetition of "joy", to the three-fold repetition of "friends" and to the nine-fold repetition of "love". We might attend to the way in which the pronouns I/my/me and you/your function in the passage. We may also notice the reference to "commands" and "commandments".

We tend not to associate "commands" with friendship and love because those we count as our friends are not usually in the habit of commanding or ordering us to do what they want. We derive little joy from being ordered to do something. And yet, there is no resiling from the juxtaposition of these terms. God, imaged in the gospel passage as "Father", loves Jesus. Jesus remains or abides in God's love so deeply that this love flows on to his friends. They are to love one another as Jesus has loved them. This is his commandment or commission to them and, by extension, to us. It directs them/us to live for each other and put their lives/our lives on the line for one another. Countless health professionals, carers, drivers and cleaners across the globe are doing precisely that right now.

Remaining in the love of God or of Jesus and doing what God or Jesus commands seem to be one and the same thing. In other words, love is not just an emotion: it is always expressed in action that is in tune with and for the sake of the other. The disciples need no further explanation. Jesus' whole life and his courage in the face of impending death have shown them what it means to love one another.

Living in the friendship of Christ's disciples is not some abstract goal. Too often we affirm the goodness of our selfless companions on the journey only when we come to lay them to rest. As we approach the end of the Easter season, we might give thanks for the love of our friends, for their witness to holiness and for the joy that they bring to our lives.
