

Come, Holy Spirit,
come as the wind
that blows where it pleases.
Move us, we pray,
to the depths of our being.
May we feel the gentleness
of your breezes,
and be stirred by the power of your wind.
Come, blow on us,
and purify the environment in which we live
so that it may be freed from what obstructs us in our journey to you and be filled with the freshness of your breath.
Come, O Holy Spirit,
come as the wind
and surround us as you please.

William Roberts