

Diocesan e-News

HAND-PAINTED PLATES FOR PLATE UP BALLARAT

Food served during Plate Up Ballarat will look as good as it tastes when it is served on pieces of art created in Ballarat schools.

Students from Loreto and St Patrick's Colleges have created beautiful hand-painted plates for the Art on a Plate dinner feast at the Art Gallery of Ballarat on May 18. Lucky diners will be able to take their plates home as a memento.

"It is a great opportunity for the VCAL students from both schools to get involved with such an amazing community event," said Loreto College head of VCAL Jill Wheatland.

"The Loreto students have enjoyed exploring their own creativity via an authentic learning experience such as Plate up Ballarat. The students from both schools cannot wait to see their hard work and creative designs showcased."

Article courtesy of the Ballarat Courier, text by Michelle Smith.

Loreto College students express their creativity as they design hand-painted plates for use during the Art on a Plate event that will be part of Plate Up Ballarat in May.