1. Introduction

Caring for and safeguarding the vulnerable is central to the Church's gospel message.

When a vulnerable person, whether a child or an adult, is abused the effects of that abuse on the victim can be devastating and may last for a lifetime. The abuse of a vulnerable person also tears at the fabric of community as a whole.

The sexual abuse of a child has a devastating, deep and ongoing impact on the lives of the victims and their families.

The Diocese of Ballarat is committed to safeguarding children and vulnerable adults. This policy is intended to provide the framework for a uniform standard of best practice in safeguarding children and vulnerable adults. It highlights core principles, key church documents and legislation in this area. The safeguarding procedures are built around the following basic elements, namely, safe recruiting and selection processes, safe activities and environments and child-focused programs to reduce vulnerability.

Policy Statement

Bishop Paul Bird has released a statement of policy relating to Professional Standards in the Diocese. The statement is a reaffirmation of the commitment of the Diocese to provide a safe and supportive environment for all. The statement is as follows:

"The Catholic Diocese of Ballarat is committed to providing a safe and supportive environment for people of all ages, with special concern for children, young people and vulnerable adults. This commitment is made in the spirit of Christ's teachings on behalf the bishop, clergy, staff and volunteers who serve in parishes, schools, Centacare and other Catholic organisations in the diocese. The diocese will respond to complaints of unprofessional conduct in ways that reflect nationally established standards and protocols and ensure adherence to applicable legislation. We are committed to providing ongoing pastoral support to any person affected by physical, emotional or sexual abuse by church personnel."

2. Purpose of the policy

The purpose of this policy is to demonstrate the strong commitment of the Catholic Diocese of Ballarat and its parishes to the care, safety and wellbeing of all children and vulnerable adults in our Church. It provides an outline of the policies, procedures and strategies developed to keep children and vulnerable adults safe from harm, including all forms of abuse in our Diocese, whether that be on site, online and in other locations used by the Diocese.

This policy applies to all diocesan and parish personnel, including employees, volunteers, contractors and clergy. It also applies to Catholic agencies such as Centacare. Specific policies apply to the Diocese of Ballarat Catholic Education Ltd. (DOBCEL) and Catholic systemic schools and these policies are published by DOBCEL.

3. Principles

The Catholic Church has a moral, legal and mission-driven responsibility to create nurturing environments where children, young people and vulnerable adults are respected, their voices are heard and they are safe and feel safe (Catholic Diocese of Ballarat Commitment Statement to the Safety of Children, Young People and Vulnerable Adults).

The following principles underpin our commitment the safety of children, young persons and vulnerable adults in the Diocese:

- Our Diocese and its parishes have a zero tolerance of child abuse.

- All children, young people and vulnerable adults are entitled to, as a fundamental right, safety and protection from all forms of abuse and neglect.
- Our Diocese and its parishes work in partnership with families and the community to ensure that they are engaged in decision-making processes, particularly those that have an impact on child safety and protection.
- All adults in our Diocese, including staff, clergy, volunteers, parishioners, contractors, have a responsibility to care for children, young people and vulnerable adults, to positively promote their wellbeing and to protect them from any kind of harm or abuse.
- The policies, guidelines and codes of conduct for the care, wellbeing and protection of children are based on honest, respectful and trusting relationships between adults and children and young people.
- All persons involved in situations where harm is suspected or disclosed must be treated with sensitivity, dignity and respect.
- Staff, clergy, volunteers, parents, parishioners including children and contractors should be free to raise concerns about child safety, knowing these will be taken seriously by the Diocesan and parish leadership.
- Caring for vulnerable adults is to be conducted with integrity and respect and with clearly defined boundaries.
- Appropriate confidentiality will be maintained, with information being provided to those who have a right or a need to be informed, either legally or pastorally

4. Definitions

Child: A person below the age of 18 years unless, under the law applicable to the child, majority is attained earlier.

Child abuse includes:

- (a) any act committed against a child involving:
 - (i) a sexual offence
 - (ii) an offence under section 49B(2) of the Crimes Act 1958 (grooming)
- (b) the infliction on a child of:
 - (i) physical violence
 - (ii) serious emotional or psychological harm
- (c) serious neglect of a child.

Child safety encompasses matters related to protecting all children from child abuse, managing the risk of child abuse, providing support to a child at risk of child abuse, and responding to incidents or allegations of child abuse.

Child neglect: The failure by a parent or caregiver to provide a child (where they are in a position to do so) with the conditions that are culturally accepted as being essential for their physical and emotional development and wellbeing.

Child physical abuse: Generally, child physical abuse refers to the non-accidental use of physical force against a child that results in harm to the child. Physically abusive behaviours including shoving, hitting, slapping, shaking, throwing, punching, kicking, biting, burning, strangling and poisoning. The fabrication or induction of an illness by a parent or carer (previously known as Munchausen syndrome by proxy) is also included in this definition of “Child physical abuse”.

Child protection: Statutory services designed to protect children who are at risk of serious harm.

Child sexual abuse: Any sexual activity between a child under the age of consent (16) and an adult or older person (i.e. a person two or more years older than the victim) is child sexual abuse. Child sexual abuse can also be:

- any sexual behaviour between a child and an adult in a position of power or authority over them; the age of consent laws do not apply in such instances due to the strong imbalance of power that exists between young people and authority figures, as well as the breaching of both personal and public trust that occurs when professional boundaries are violated
- any sexual behaviour between a child and an adult family member, regardless of issues of consent, equality or coercion
- sexual activity between peers that is non-consensual or involves the use of power or coercion
- non-consensual sexual activity between minors (e.g. a 14-year old and an 11-year old), or any sexual behaviour between a child and another child or adolescent who, due to their age or stage of development, is in a position of power, trust or responsibility over the victim. Sexual activity between adolescents at a similar developmental level is not intended to be included in this definition of “Child sexual abuse”.

Mandatory Reporting: The legal requirement to report suspected cases of child abuse and neglect is known as mandatory reporting. Mandated persons include clergy, deacons, teachers, nurses, police, psychologists, psychiatrists and medical practitioners.

Reasonable Belief: When an adult is concerned about the safety and wellbeing of a child or young person, they must assess that concern to determine if a report should be made to the relevant agency. This process of considering all relevant information and observations is known as forming a ‘reasonable belief’. A ‘reasonable belief’ or a ‘belief on reasonable grounds’ is not the same as having proof but is more than mere rumour or speculation. A ‘reasonable belief’ is formed if a reasonable person in the same position would have formed the belief on the same grounds.

Vulnerable People: People who are vulnerable may include:

- The frail and elderly
- Refugees
- An adult who has suffered bereavement, marriage or relationship breakdown or other adversity which puts them in particular need of pastoral support.
- A person who has an intellectual disability, mental illness or an impairment that makes it difficult for them to protect themselves from abuse or exploitation.
- A person under the effects of drugs or alcohol.
- A person for whom English is not their first language.
- A person who is seeking assistance

All staff must be familiar with relevant laws, the Diocesan Employee Code of Conduct and the Diocesan Code of Conduct for Caring for Children and Vulnerable Adults. The Diocesan Code of Conduct for Caring for Children and Vulnerable Adults establishes clear expectations of staff for appropriate behaviour with children in order to safeguard them against abuse and neglect.

8. Child Safety and Participation

In the Catholic Diocese of Ballarat and its parishes and agencies, we actively encourage all children to openly express their views and feel comfortable about giving voice to the things that are important to them.

We encourage our parishes and agencies to discuss with their children what they can do if they feel unsafe and we enable our parishes and agencies to understand, identify, discuss and report child safety. We listen to and act on any concerns our parishes or agencies, their children or their parents raise with us.

9. Responding to and reporting child abuse

The Catholic Diocese of Ballarat records any child safety complaints, disclosures or breaches of the Diocesan Code of Conduct for Caring for Children, Young People and Vulnerable Adults and stores the records in accordance with security and privacy requirements. Our Diocese complies with legal obligations that relate to managing the risk of child abuse under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005 (Vic.), the Crimes Act 1958 (Vic.) and the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (Vic.)

The Diocesan Code of Conduct for Caring for Children, Young People and Vulnerable Adults sets out the actions required under the relevant legislation when there is a reasonable belief that a child in our organisation is in need of protection or a criminal offence has been committed, and provides guidance and procedures on how to make a report.

We work to ensure all children, families and staff know what to do and who to tell if they observe abuse of a victim, or if they notice inappropriate behaviour.

Any concerns about the safety or wellbeing of a child in a parish or agency must be notified to the Diocesan Coordinator for Professional Standards and the Victorian Director for Professional Standards. They are also to be notified to the Victorian Police in accordance with the requirements of the Crimes Act 1958 (Vic.), mandatory reporting under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005 (Vic.) and the requirements of the Reportable Conduct Scheme under the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (Vic.)
