LORIS BUGNO

Some parishioners are outstanding in the way they shoulder responsibilities in the life of the Parish. Here in Red Cliffs, Loris Bugno is one such parishioner. However, Loris is now 85, 'old bones' as they say. And in fact some of Loris' old bones are a cause of suffering for her. She is facing various operations on knees etc.

A consequence of this is that she needs to shed some of her responsibilities in the Parish.

- Loris made most of the banners that hang in our church. She can no longer manage changing these banners for the different feasts and seasons. SO, SOMEONE NEEDS TO TAKE OVER THIS RESPONSIBILITY.
- Loris has organised the roster for flowers each year, and has herself put a lot of time into preparing the flowers. SOMEONE NEEDS TO TAKE OVER THIS RESPONSIBILITY, TOO.
- Loris is on the roster for taking Communion to the sick. I hope that she will be able to continue with this for a good while yet. Sick people value her visiting them.

Loris, thanks for all you have done. Fr Pat Flanagan

FLAGS AWAY

Because of my turning 80, I have been away from Red Cliffs longer this year than is usual. However, my being away is not over yet. On Tuesday I fly off to be with my older sister, Gwen, in Port Macquarie. At the end of my many weeks there, I'm not coming straight home, but first flying to Hobart to see the daughters of my oldest sister, May, who died in 2012. I'll be back for the Italian mission that is the lead up to our Festa. If anyone needs to get in touch with me, my sister Gwen's phone number is 02-65-820-859. It is best to ring an evening. PJF
