Parish Council News Last Wednesday the Council met and some of the matters discussed were: the introduction of GOD START, a program to help parents of recently Baptised children feel connected to the Parish Community.

The various policies now in place for the Diocese will be printed and held in a Hard Covered file to be held in the churches and be available for all people to observe. They are also to be found on the Ballarat Diocesan Website: www.ballarat.catholic.org.au

We are continuing to freshen up the Parish Notice Board on Learmonth Street.

The hiring conditions and charges for families, Parishioners, (private groups) and Clubs are to be further looked at. No decisions at present The Finance Committee will look at these.

We are still trying to have a person in the know to look at getting the church ducted vacuum system working again.

The Council was pleased to hear that the Reception area in the new administration building is to be recognised as the Anne Marsh Area. A photo and plaque will be placed there.

Lock it in, Eddie: Collingwood, Catholicism, controversy

Published: 08 September 2016

Broadcaster Eddie McGuire is president of the Collingwood football club. He talks to Geraldine Doogue about his Catholic upbringing, work, and the club's social welfare program, Magpie Nest.

Magpie Nest, an initiative founded in partnership with the Salvation Army, is an innovative housing project that offers homeless people a way of getting their lives back on track.

This episode of Compass focuses on Magpie Nest, but also delves into Maguire's background and his most recent media controversies – Adam Goodes and Caroline Wilson.
