FIND GOOD READERS FOR MASS, POPE FRANCIS SAYS

Vatican City, Jan 31, 2018 / 05:36 am (CNA/EWTN News).- On Wednesday, Pope Francis spoke about the importance of the Liturgy of the Word, and the resulting importance of having lectors who can proclaim the readings and the Responsorial Psalm well.

"We must look for good readers!" he said Jan. 31, in off-the-cuff comments during the general audience.

Good readers and psalmists understand what they are reading and can convey it well, he continued, explaining that they need to be prepared by reading over the text before Mass.

When someone reads well, not "distorting the words," this helps to create "a climate of receptive silence," he said, which is important, because "it is not enough to hear with the ears, without receiving in the heart the seed of the divine Word, allowing it to bear fruit."

On this note, Francis emphasized that it is also important that we are staying focused and listening to the readings with an open heart, not looking around at different things or making chit-chat.

"When they read the words of the Bible – the first reading, the second, the responsorial psalm, the Gospel – we must listen and open our heart," he said. "Because it is God himself who speaks to us. Do not think about other things or talk about other things."

Other things which are not appropriate during the Liturgy of the Word are the substitution of a non-Biblical text, or omitting a reading, he said.

Liturgically, when the same readings are proclaimed in each church, it is a way of fostering "ecclesial communion," he said, and for this reason, it is wrong to make "subjective choices" in this case.

"Replacing that Word with other things impoverishes and compromises the dialogue between God and his people in prayer."

The Pope recounted hearing of someone who would read the newspaper at Mass, "because it is the news of the day." This is not okay, he said. "The Word of God is the Word of God! We can read the newspaper later. But there we read the Word of God."

Every part of the Mass is significant, including the Liturgy of the Word, which is when "God speaks, and we listen to him, and then put into practice what we have heard."

And "we need to listen to him!" he emphasized. "It is in fact a matter of life," just as it says in the Gospel of Matthew: "one does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God."

Just like in the Parable of the Sower, where we hear about the different results of the seeds that fall on different terrain, "the action of the Spirit, which makes the response effective, needs hearts that allow themselves to be worked and cultivated, so that what is heard at Mass passes into daily life," he said.

In fact, we must listen to the admonition of James the Apostle, the Pope continued, who tells us to "be doers of the word and not hearers only, deluding yourselves."

Francis explained that the Word of God, especially as we hear it at Mass, is important nourishment for our daily lives. "How could we face our earthly pilgrimage, with its labors and its trials, without being regularly nourished and enlightened by the Word of God that resounds in the liturgy?" he asked.

SCRIPTURE REFLECTION:

Today we see three snapshots from the photo album of life.

Suffering comes to everyone. It can take such a hold of us that the happiness of the past is swallowed up, the beauty of better days is forgotten, and the hope of a brighter future is imperilled. Life ceases to be an adventure and takes on the guise of drudgery. At such times suffering appears to be our permanent fate, and life seems too short for suffering to run its course. If we become identified with our distress, we will be tormented.

Jesus knew the harshness of life, because he was one of us. He saw it in the lives of those he loved, and he was touched by their torment. He came to release people from the demons that possess them, from the illness that undermined their lives. He came to bring the reign of God, the reign of peace and fulfilment. He came to heal the brokenhearted, to bind up their wounds.

Paul was a messenger of this gospel of salvation and fulfilment. He was so committed to his mission that he empathised with all those who heard his preaching – the slaves, the weak, the brokenhearted, all those who knew well the harshness of life. Now it is our turn. We are the disciples who must bring the good news to the brokenhearted, to those who are enslaved, to those who are weak. We are the ones who will then share in the blessings of this good news.

MARK'S GOSPEL

Lectionary readings this year focus on the Gospel of Mark, the earliest of the Gospels.

You are invited to experience the unfolding drama of Mark's Gospel in its entirety with a word-for-word DVD performance by award winning actor Max McLean.

This is an opportunity to closely witness / be present to an oral presentation of Jesus' life and times and teachings as recorded by Mark in his Gospel, in a similar way to the way members of his early Christian communities in Rome would have received them.

The performance and issues of note for an audience participating in such an event will be introduced by Lesley Morgan.

Tea / coffee available. Bring a cushion for your own comfort. Maybe bring a note pad and pen to jot down any of your inner responses as the
