Making Connections: Make choices for others this week. Die to yourself a little. Repeat this prayer often this week: Lord, may I die to myself in Jesus so that through him I may have new life.

Did you Know?: Points of interest and Catholic lore. In the gospels, Jesus often refers to himself as the Son of Man, a mysterious expression that both reveals and conceals his identity. It is a term which comes from the Book of Daniel.

The festival referred to here was the Passover (Jn 12:1). Observant Jews who were able to come from far and wide to celebrate this great festival at the Temple in Jerusalem. The city was overflowing with pilgrims from many lands and regions. Often people stayed outside the city because accommodation was very stretched at the times of the pilgrimage festivals. They came into the city each day to celebrate and then returned outside the walls to sleep, either in a nearby village or, often, under the stars. This is exactly what Jesus did on his final Passover visit to Jerusalem. After celebrating the meal he was returning to Bethany where his friends Mary, Martha and Lazarus lived. On the way, he stopped to pray at the Garden of Gethsemane and there accepted his fate. The Passover is just one of the three great pilgrimage festivals of Judaism.

Sharing the Tradition: Death is a part of life and humans are the only ones of God's creatures who live much of their lives knowing they will die. But for Christians death holds no fear. Because of Christ, Christian death has a positive meaning...What is essentially new about Christian death is this: through Baptism, the Christian has already 'died with Christ' sacramentally, in order to live a new life; and if we die in Christ's grace, physical death completes this 'dying with Christ' and so completes our incorporation into him in his redeeming act. (CCC§1010)

Living the Word: 'Now the hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.' John uses the term 'the hour' to refer to the salvific death and exultation of Jesus. For the first time, in this story, Jesus proclaims that his hour has come. His death is imminent.

Marriage Tip: What do you owe your kids? Toys? An allowance? A mobile phone? No, these are extras to be granted, not entitlements. Love, time, food, clothing, shelter, and safety are the essentials: focus on these.

Daily Prayer: Deep within our hearts, O God, you have written your law, and high upon the cross you have lifted up our salvation, the Savior made perfect in suffering. From the death of that single grain sown in the weary earth, bring forth in this Lenten springtime a rich harvest of life. As the hour of his passion draws near, glorify your name, and in our baptismal renewal, let it be glorified again.

Pope's Prayer Intentions for March

Formation in Spiritual Discernment That the Church may appreciate the urgency of formation in spiritual discernment, both on the personal and communitarian levels.

A Vocation View: Unless a seed first dries out and dies, it cannot be planted in the earth to grow. Unless we first dry out and die to our selfish ways, we can never expect to be people who will 'lay down their lives for their friends.'

"Go in peace glorifying the Lord by your life."

-17 March

The Patron Saint of Ireland, St Patrick is remembered and celebrated on 17 March each year, not only in Ireland, but around the world, as people hold parades and festivals that celebrate Irish culture. Saint Patrick is said to be from the border of Scotland and England and was kidnapped at the age of 16 and taken to Ireland where he was forced into slavery. According to his autobiographical Confessio, during the 6 years he spent in imprisonment, he became very religious. After a vision led him to stow away on a boat, Patrick escaped to England and went back to his family. There he had a dream that the Irish people were calling him back to teach them about God and this inspired him to become a priest. Twelve years later after studying abroad, he returned to Ireland as a bishop sent with the Pope's blessings. For the twenty years that followed, Saint Patrick travelled the length and breadth of Ireland baptising people and establishing monasteries, schools and churches as he went. He died on 17 March c461, leaving behind an organised Church and an island of Christians.
