Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Saturday 27th July and Sunday 28th July 2019

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Lord, on the day I called for help,
you answered me.

I thank you, Lord, with all my heart:
you have heard the words of my mouth.
In the presence of the angels I will bless you.
I will adore before your holy temple.

Lord, on the day I called for help,
you answered me.

I thank you for your faithfulness and love,
which excel all we ever knew of you.
On the day I called, you answered;
you increased the strength of my soul.

Lord, on the day I called for help,
you answered me.

The Lord is high yet he looks on the lowly
and the haughty he knows from afar.
Though I walk in the midst of affliction
you give me life and frustrate my foes.

Lord, on the day I called for help,
you answered me.

You stretch out your hand and save me,
your hand will do all things for me.
Your love, O Lord, is eternal, discard not the work of your hands.

Lord, on the day I called for help,
you answered me.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

GOSPEL REFLECTION

from In Conversation with God

by Fr Francis Fernandez

In our prayer to God, the first things we should seek from Him are spiritual goods – the grace to love Him more each day, to have an authentic desire for sanctity. We should also ask God for material goods insofar as they serve to bring us closer to Him. These goods can include good health, economic well-being, getting a job, etc.

St Augustine advises us:

“Pray for temporal goods in private, and rest in the knowledge that they come to us from Him who knows what is best for us. Did you ask and not get what you wanted? Trust in your Father. If it would have been good for you, you would have received it. Before God, you are much as a little child is before you. All day long, the child cries her eyes out so that you will give her a knife to play with. You wisely refuse her plea and pay no attention to her wailing. When the child demands to ride your horse, you won’t let her. The child doesn’t know how to ride, and may get injured or even killed as a result. You deny her in little things so as to preserve more important things. You want the child to grow up safely and possess all her own goods without danger.”

This is how the Lord is with us. So many times we are like the child who doesn’t realise what it is she is asking.

God always wants what is best for us. A person’s happiness, therefore, is always to be found in his or her full identification with the Divine Will. Even though what God wills may sometimes not seem so appealing from a human point of view, it necessarily leads to what is in our best interests. St John Paul II once recalled how impressed he was by the cheerfulness of a man he met in a hospital during the Warsaw Uprising:

“This man achieved happiness by some other way because visibly – judging his physical state from the medical point of view – there was no reason for him to be so happy, to feel so well, and to consider himself heard by God. Yet he was heard in another aspect of his humanity.”

This aspect was the identification of his human will with the Divine Will. We have to want the Will of God: “thy Will be done on earth as it is in heaven.” This is the best path to follow. It is the one prepared for us by the Lord. St Josemaria counsels: Tell him, ‘Lord, I want nothing other than what you want. Even those things I am asking you for at present, if they take me an inch away from your Will, don’t give them to me. If you don’t want these things, why should I? You know best. Your Will be done.’
