Huge thanks for helping

Meal Deliverers

We now have a team of deliverers—thank you. We will be donating and delivering quite a few meals each week. We have also created a small menu for people to purchase a meal for themselves or a family from our qualified chef Mike, please see inserted or attached menu!

Again huge thanks for your help and support

Humour

At a couple's conference, the speaker mentioned that couples are so disconnected—85% of husbands don't know their wives favourite flower.
Paddy turned to his wife and whispered: "It's self-raising, isn't it?"

Pope Francis—Twitter

"Earth Day is an occasion to renew our commitment to love our common home, which is not a warehouse to exploit. Let us care for it and for the weakest members of our human family."

If you haven't already done so, please could you drop off your Project Compassion Contributions to the office as soon as you can. Many Thanks

Third Sunday of Easter

26th April 2020

As we celebrate, we acknowledge the Indigenous owners of the land on which our Churches are built, the Tjapwurong people, and we respect the presence of the spirits of their ancestors among us.

Fr. Andrew Hayes They Recognised Jesus

They recognised Jesus in the breaking of the bread. That's the gospel for today. Wow! After last week when the early Church met in their homes for the breaking of the bread. I've been enjoying Mass each Sunday at my dinner table, so how it must hurt for many who cannot! They recognised the Risen Jesus walking amongst them. Still on that thought, I was taken by the prime minister this week asking us not to be racist. Good call by the prime minister. People are being beaten for looking Chinese. Oh for God's sake! BUT - governments of both teams have traded gloats over the years over who has stopped the most poor people from Arab or Asian countries arriving on boats. There's not the same uproar about people from wealthy Western countries arriving by plane and staying. That's racism. The problem isn't boat or plane. The difference is country of origin. Racism! Politicians have spent a decade teaching us to be racist, and this week complained when some imitated them. Three cheers to the RAR, ASRC and BASP. Let us recognise Jesus in the people who walk alongside us.

A Blessed Ramadan

Ramadan started this week. It's a very holy time, like Lent for Muslims. Other years I attend a number of events, often in Melbourne, to mark Ramadan. This year, with Corona, will be more a time of stillness, which is actually the point I suppose. Let's pray for the holy Muslim people. For those in Ararat, have you driven past the mosque and cultural centre? It's coming out of the ground. Won't be long!

them. Sing with them. Let them be. Don't stress over the home learning. Do what you can. The world will spin. Teach them to cook, then recognise Jesus in the breaking of the bread.

ANZAC Day

Let us remember the fallen and in a special way might we remember those who lie in foreign soil far from home and those who lie in unmarked graves, loved by their families, revered by our nation, and known unto God. As we celebrate our Risen Lord, let us pray that each of the fallen who has died out of love for us might in their turn rise again and be known unto God and live forever. May God bless them and love them.

Locked In

How are people faring? Go gently. Be kind. Go for a walk. Pat a dog. In Ararat we're sending out lovely meals to people, just as a gift, just for the love of it. Thanks Mike. Good job! Kids at home? Dance with them. Sing with them. Let them be. Don't stress over the home learning. Do what you can. The world will spin. Teach them to cook, then recognise Jesus in the breaking of the bread.

Mass Times

Both parishes can expect a decision on Mass times in the next couple of weeks.

Collections

Thank you to all those who have been able to contribute to the Presbytery and Church Collections at this unprecedented time. Every little helps. We need to keep our churches standing and the parish priest ready and able to organise the most wonderful celebratory Mass, once we can gather again!

First Reading Acts 2:14, 22-33

It was impossible for him to be held by the power of Hades.

On the day of Pentecost, Peter stood up with the Eleven and addressed the crowd in a loud voice: 'Men of Israel, listen to what I am going to say: Jesus the Nazarene was a man commended to you by God by the miracles and portents and signs that God worked through him when he was among you, as you all know. This man, who was put into your power by the deliberate intention and foreknowledge of God, you took and had crucified by men outside the Law. You killed him, but God raised him to life, freeing him from the pangs of Hades; for it was impossible for him to be held in its power since, as David says of him: I saw the Lord before me always, for with him at my right hand nothing can shake me. So my heart was glad and my tongue cried out with joy: my body, too, will rest in the hope that you will not abandon my soul to Hades nor allow your holy one to experience corruption. You have made known the way of life to me, you will fill me with gladness through your presence.

'Brothers, no one can deny that the patriarch David himself is dead and buried: his tomb is still with us. But since he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn him an oath to make one of his descendants succeed him on the throne, what he foresaw and spoke about was the resurrection of the Christ: he is the one who was not abandoned to Hades, and whose body did not experience corruption. God raised this man Jesus to life, and all of us are witnesses to that. Now raised to the heights by God's right hand, he has received from the Father the Holy Spirit, who was promised, and what you see and hear is the outpouring of that Spirit.'

Responsorial Psalm Ps 15:1-2. 5. 7-11. R. v.11

(R.) Lord, you will show us the path of life.

1. Preserve me, God, I take refuge in you.
I say to the Lord: 'You are my God.
O Lord, it is you who are my portion and cup;
it is you yourself who are my prize.' (R.)
2. I will bless the Lord who gives me counsel, who even at night directs my heart.
I keep the Lord ever in my sight:
since he is at my right hand, I shall stand firm. (R.)
3. And so my heart rejoices, my soul is glad;
even my body shall rest in safety.
For you will not leave my soul among the dead,
nor let your beloved know decay. (R.)
4. You will show me the path of life,
the fullness of joy in your presence,
at your right hand happiness for ever. (R.)

Second Reading 1 Pt 1:17-21

The ransom that was paid to free you was the blood of the Lamb, Jesus Christ.

If you are acknowledging as your Father one who has no favourites and judges everyone according to what he has done, you must be scrupulously careful as long as you are living away from your home. Remember, the ransom that was paid to free you from the useless way of life your ancestors handed down was not paid in anything corruptible, neither in silver nor gold, but in the precious blood of a lamb without spot or stain, namely Christ; who, though known since before the world was made, has been revealed only in our time, the end of the ages, for your sake. Through him you now have faith in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory for that very reason – so that you would have faith and hope in God.

Gospel Acclamation See Lk 24:32

Alleluia, alleluia!
Lord Jesus, make your word plain to us:
make our hearts burn with love when you speak.
Alleluia!

Gospel Lk 24:13-35 They recognised him at the breaking of the bread.

Two of the disciples of Jesus were on their way to a village called Emmaus, seven miles from Jerusalem, and they were talking together about all that had happened. Now as they talked this over, Jesus himself came up and walked by their side; but something prevented them from recognising him. He said to them, 'What matters are you discussing as you walk along?' They stopped short, their faces downcast.

Then one of them, called Cleopas, answered him, 'You must be the only person staying in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have been happening there these last few days.' 'What things?' he asked. 'All about Jesus of Nazareth' they answered 'who proved he was a great prophet by the things he said and did in the sight of God and of the whole people; and how our chief priests and our leaders handed him over to be sentenced to death, and had him crucified. Our own hope had been that he would be the one to set Israel free. And this is not all: two whole days have gone by since it all happened; and some women from our group have astounded us: they went to the tomb in the early morning, and when they did not find the body, they came back to tell us they had seen a vision of angels who declared he was alive. Some of our friends went to the tomb and found everything exactly as the women had reported, but of him they saw nothing.'

Then he said to them, 'You foolish men! So slow to believe the full message of the prophets! Was it not ordained that the Christ should suffer and so enter into his glory?' Then, starting with Moses and going through all the prophets, he explained to them the passages throughout the scriptures that were about himself.

When they drew near to the village to which they were going, he made as if to go on; but they pressed him to stay with them. 'It is nearly evening' they said 'and the day is almost over.' So he went in to stay with them. Now while he was with them at table, he took the bread and said the blessing; then he broke it and handed it to them. And their eyes were opened and they recognised him; but he had vanished from their sight. Then they said to each other, 'Did not our hearts burn within us as he talked to us on the road and explained the scriptures to us?'

They set out that instant and returned to Jerusalem. There they found the Eleven assembled together with their companions, who said to them, 'Yes, it is true. The Lord has risen and has appeared to Simon.' Then they told their story of what had happened on the road and how they had recognised him at the breaking of bread.

Gospel Reflection

One of the remarkable things about the Risen Jesus is that his friends and followers almost always fail to recognise him at first. In the instance on the road to Emmaus, two of the disciples are walking the road feeling sorry for themselves when Jesus joins them. It is, perhaps, an experience that is not unfamiliar in our own lives: so absorbed by what is happening to us that we fail to recognise the presence of Christ walking the journey with us – in spirit or in the guise of someone around us. Jesus allows the disciples to share their woes and their grief and then he slowly but surely relates all of what had happened to the scriptures and demonstrates to the disciples that the events of the previous few days were all part of God's plan. The disciples felt that their hopes and beliefs had been misplaced in Jesus; he hadn't delivered all that they had dreamed. But the Risen Jesus makes them realise that their hopes were not misplaced; they were right to trust and hope in Jesus and that belief will still bear fruit.

It is not until Jesus re-enacts the Last Supper breaking of bread that the disciples suddenly recognise him, but at that moment of recognition, Jesus vanishes from their midst. It must have been tantalising and frustrating for the two disciples – when they finally realised who they had been talking with and they could celebrate his presence Jesus disappeared. But the truth of what they had realised didn't abandon them. They reminded one another of the passion they had felt: 'Didn't our hearts burn within us as he talked to us on the road?' They are saying to each other, how stupid must we have been not to recognise Jesus? Only he could make us feel like that! @gregsunter
