Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Saturday 30th and Sunday 31st January, 2021

FIRST READING Deuteronomy 18:15-20

I will raise up a prophet and put my words into his mouth

Moses said to the people: "The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like myself, from among yourselves, from your own brothers; to him you must listen. This is what you yourselves asked of the Lord your God at Horeb on the day of the Assembly. "Do not let me hear again" you said "the voice of the Lord my God, nor look any longer on this great fire, or I shall die"; and the Lord said to me, "All they have spoken is well said. I will raise up a prophet like yourself for them from their own brothers; I will put my words into his mouth and he shall tell them all I command him. The man who does not listen to my words that he speaks in my name, shall be held answerable to me for it. But the prophet who presumes to say in my name a thing I have not commanded him to say, or who speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die."

RESPONSORIAL Ps 94(95):1-2,6-9

*R/. If today you hear his voice,
harden not your hearts.*

Come, ring out our joy to the Lord;
hail the rock who saves us.
Let us come before him, giving thanks,
with songs let us hail the Lord.

*R/. If today you hear his voice,
harden not your hearts.*

Come in; let us bow and bend low;
let us kneel before the God who made us:
for he is our God and we

the people who belong to his pasture,
the flock that is led by his hand.

*R/. If today you hear his voice,
harden not your hearts.*

O that today you would listen to his voice!
'Harden not your hearts as at Meribah,
as on that day at Massah in the desert
when your fathers put me to the test;
when they tried me, though they saw my
work.'

*R/. If today you hear his voice,
harden not your hearts.*

SECOND READING 1 Corinthians 7:32-35

Give your undivided attention to the Lord

I would like to see you free from all worry.
An unmarried man can devote himself to the Lord's affairs, all he need worry about is pleasing the Lord; but a married man has to bother about the world's affairs and devote himself to pleasing his wife: he is torn two ways. In the same way an unmarried woman, like a young girl, can devote herself to the Lord's affairs; all she need worry about is being holy in body and spirit. The married woman, on the other hand, has to worry about the world's affairs
and devote herself to pleasing her husband.
I say this only to help you, not to put a halter round your necks, but simply to make sure that everything is as it should be,
and that you give your undivided attention
to the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION Matthew 4:16

V/. Alleluia! R/. Alleluia!

V/. A people in darkness have seen a great light: a radiant dawn shines on those lost in death. R/. Alleluia

GOSPEL

Mark 1:21-28

Unlike the scribes he taught with authority

Jesus and his disciples went as far as Capernaum, and as soon as the sabbath came he went to the synagogue and began to teach. And his teaching made a deep impression on them because, unlike the scribes, he taught them with authority.

In their synagogue just then there was a man possessed by an unclean spirit and it shouted, 'What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are: the Holy One of God.' But Jesus said sharply, 'Be quiet! Come out of him!' And the unclean spirit threw the man into convulsions and with a loud cry went out of him. The people were so astonished that they started asking each other what it all meant. 'Here is a teaching that is new' they said 'and with authority behind it: he gives orders even to unclean spirits and they obey him.' And his reputation rapidly spread everywhere, through all the surrounding Galilean countryside.

Scripture Reflection

by Fr Francis Fernandez

THE AUTHORITY OF A SINCERE SPIRIT OF SERVICE

Today's Gospel highlights the "deep impression" our Lord made, "because, unlike the scribes, he taught them with authority."

The life of Christ is a constant exemplary help to you and I. Christ is the example to be followed by those who wield authority in his Church, and by all Christians. Although he is God, the Judge who is to come to judge the world, he does not impose himself. He serves, for the sake of love, even to the point of giving his life for all. This is his first way of being. And this is the way the Apostles came to understand it, especially after the coming of the Holy Spirit. Later, St Peter will exhort priests to tend the flock of God not as domineering overlords, but as living examples. (1 Pet 5:1-3) So too St Paul, who writes: "though I am not a slave of any man I have made myself the slave of everyone so as to win as many as I could." (1 Cor 9:19)

But our Lord speaks not only to his Apostles, but also to his disciples and to all his followers throughout the centuries. He teaches us that there is a special dignity to be found in helping and in offering assistance to men and women, in imitation of the Master.

"This dignity is expressed in our readiness to serve, in keeping with the example of Christ, who 'came not to be served but to serve'. If, in the light of this attitude of Christ's, 'being a king' is truly possible only by 'being a servant', then 'being a servant' also demands so much spiritual maturity that it must really be described as equivalent to 'being a king'. In order to be able to serve others worthily and effectively we must be able to master ourselves, and possess the virtues that make this mastery possible." John Paul II, Redemptor hominis, 21.

Virtues like humility of heart, generosity, fortitude, cheerfulness, which enable us to put our life at the service of God, to make ourselves available for our family, our friends and the whole of society.

Let us make certain today, in the presence of God, whether we have the proper disposition of service. Do we really serve those in our home? In our workplace? Do we always, everywhere, imitate the Lord who did not come to be served, but to serve? This spirit of service should be evident particularly if we have a post of responsibility, a position of authority. Let us look at ourselves and see whether we manage to avoid accepting services from others without thinking, when we could well be doing those tasks ourselves. Our attitude has to be totally different from the attitude of people who take advantage of their authority or their prestige in order to ask – or worse, to demand – attention and service.

We have recourse to St Joseph, that faithful and wise servant who was always ready to protect the Holy Family with countless sacrifices. He gave unstinting, unbounded service to Jesus and Mary. Let us ask him to help us to have that same disposition with regard to our own family, with the people with whom we live, no matter what position in life we hold, with our professional colleagues or our friends ... and even with those who ask us in passing for some piece of information or a small favour. With the help of the holy Patriarch, we will see Jesus and Mary in them. That way it will be easy for us to serve them.

FIRST SUNDAY OF SAINT JOSEPH

*His sorrow when he decides to leave Mary;
his joy when the angel exhorts him to stay.*

PRAYER: O chaste spouse of Mary, great was the trouble and anguish of your heart when you considered quietly sending away your inviolate spouse; yet your joy was unspeakable, when the surpassing mystery of the Incarnation was made known to you by the message of an angel. By this sorrow and this joy, we beseech you to comfort our souls, both now and in the sorrows of our final hour, with the joy of a good life and a holy death after the pattern of your own life and death in the arms of Jesus and Mary.

LITANY: Lord, have mercy on. Christ have mercy on us. Lord, have mercy on us, Christ hear us. Christ, graciously hear us.
