PRAYER

O God,
you reveal the signs of your presence
among us in the church, in the liturgy and in our brothers and sisters.

Let no word of yours
ever fall by the wayside or be rendered ineffective through our indifference or neglect.
Rather, make us quick to recognise your saving plan
whenever we encounter it,
and keep as ready always
to serve as prophets and apostles of your kingdom
Amen.

Psalm 77

The Lord gave them bread from heaven.

The things we have heard and understood,
the things our fathers have told us,
we will tell to the next generation:
the glories of the Lord and his might.

He commanded the clouds above
and opened the gates of heaven.
He rained down manna for their food,
and gave them bread from heaven.

Mere men ate the bread of angels.
He sent them abundance of food.
He brought them to his holy land,
to the mountain which his right hand had won.

The Lord gave them bread from heaven.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

No one lives on bread alone,
but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.
Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

I am that bread, says Jesus

In today's gospel, the people ask Jesus three questions and each time his response suggests, think again.

The first question comes after the multiplication of the loaves and fishes on the other side of the sea and they're wondering where is he? On locating him they ask, 'When did you get here?' Jesus' answer is puzzling: you've seen the signs of God's love he says, but haven't understood their meaning and can only see that you've had plenty to eat! He goes on to contrast working for what is here today, gone tomorrow and what sustains you forever. It's this I'm offering you, he says, through the Father.

We'd prefer it if Jesus would stick to the script, but he doesn't. He doesn't answer to our expectations. Instead, he leads his listeners into what seems like uncharted territory and, like the Israelites in the first reading, we may begin to yearn for the certainties back in Egypt, when enslaved, but at least we weren't hungry. But then, that's what the spiritual revolution referred to in today's second reading is all about, our secure selves being overturned by what Jesus says, our minds opening up.

This leads to the second question: what must we do in order to do what God wants? Again, he wrong-foots them when he responds: Believe in the one he sent. They sort of get what he's saying and respond by thinking of him in the time-honoured way and ask, can you show us a sign like the manna given by Moses in the desert, so we might believe in you? And a third time he brings them undone. It's not about me, or Moses, he responds, but about my Father who gives you true bread from heaven, for the world's sake.

When they say give us that bread always, Jesus replies, I am that bread. It's a breathtaking statement, a new Passover, a new revelation of God. We've gone from loaves and fishes and manna in the desert to this pledge of God's love, where our hunger and our eating is the way into Jesus, into God. In eating this bread 'we receive what we are and become what we receive.'

We're learning to receive what God gives us and learning that we can't program it, or earn it in some way, but have only to receive it. It's so simple we don't quite get it and we're back to their questions and having to re-think our lives.

It all comes down to this simple act of eating. Food and eating and bodies, now transformed, so we might be bread for others. Jesus is the sign of God's unending love for us made real in his broken body, the Church. To experience something of this reality is to believe in him who was sent. Is he the one we have been looking for? Come and eat.

Reopening for Mass at All Saints Portland

Dear Parishioners.

Please see below a message from Bishop Paul re the opening up of churches for Mass. I commend it to you all for your attention.

For us here in Portland restrictions means we can have a maximum of 60 persons at Mass at any one time.

We will have 3 Masses where we use the Sunday readings; 10.00am Friday, 6.00pm Saturday and 10.30am Sunday.

On Friday at 10.00am we will also record the Mass for distribution via our YouTube Channel.

Please choose one of these times as your Mass for the weekend and let me know which one you intend to attend.

For those who are considered essential for the celebration of Mass.

If you are rostered as a Reader, Communion Minister, or if you are operating our Video Camera, or Computer; then you do not count in the 60-person limit.

When our Choir begins to sing on Sundays at the 10.30am Mass, they are also counted as essential for the Celebration and are not included in the 60-person limit.

Hello Everyone,

As you may have seen, the Victorian Government has announced an easing of COVID restrictions.

The new provisions apply throughout Victoria from midnight tonight (Tuesday July 27).

Religious gatherings and ceremonies are permitted for up to 100 people indoors and up to 300 people outdoors.

In general, a density quotient of 1 person per 4 square metres applies. However, a venue smaller than 100 square metres can have up to 25 people per venue before the density quotient applies. In other words, even very small churches are permitted to have up to 25 people for a religious gathering. For a gathering of more than 25 people, the number would be calculated at 1 person per 4 square metres. COVID Check-in Marshals must ensure attendees check-in.

Funerals (indoor and outdoor) are permitted with up to 50 people attending, plus those necessary to conduct the funeral. Children under 12 months old are not counted towards this cap. COVID Check-in Marshals must ensure attendees check-in.

Weddings (indoor and outdoor) are permitted with up to 50 people, including the two persons being married and two witnesses. The celebrant and photographer are not included in the cap. COVID Check-in Marshals must ensure attendees check-in.

Masks must be worn indoors and outdoors except if at home or if an exception applies.

I rejoice that we will be able to gather again for Mass and other celebrations, even though the numbers will be limited. I thank those people in each parish who are helping us to come together while attending to the COVID-safe directives. I thank you all for your patience as we make the adjustments needed so that we can pray as a community while keeping everyone safe.

God bless you all.
Bishop Paul
