A MESSAGE FROM FR JOHN:

With hip replacement surgery scheduled upon my return, this year's Camino is more challenging. I'm pressing on each day thanks to a combination of stupidity, strong pain medication and not wanting to waste my airfare. I'm grateful for Jackie Dellavedova's hiking poles and being able to sneak these through airport security in my carry on luggage despite these bringing my backpack up to 4.3kg. Very warm on the Camino Vasco (see gronze.com) in north-east Spain; with the locals saying its not usually this hot here in Basque country. On this 250km path through forests and fertile rural areas, I've met only 3 other pilgrims so far. This'll change dramatically when we reach Burgos where we join the Camino Frances and then jostling for a place at the bar and a bed for the night will begin. Adios!
